

The Strategic Planning Team

This team is composed of laity and clergy from several churches within the National Association, who have served on the leadership team of the NACCC in the past and want to help it meet the future.

Consult our yearbook for the names of team members